Pro-Greek Underground Leader Says 2 British Soldiers Hanged on Cyprus

About Town And Country

By TIMOTHEUS T.

Time to Get Angry About Highway Deaths, Article Says

HIGHWAY SAFETY, although it's a subject for apathy for most of our citizens, is a vital problem to officials who have to deal with it.

One of the best editorials on this subject has come to the attention of Timmo. It was printed in the Providence (R.I.) Journal and Evening Bulletin and I think it is something that all of us should read.

It is titled "Why Not Get Angry About Highway Deaths?" and reads like this:

"In 1953 in the United States 7,120 persons were murdered. But 38,300 were killed by automobiles. In the same year, 92,600 persons were injured by assaults. But 1,350,000 were injured by automobiles.

"These figures, cited by a former president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police, give some measure of the relative importance of the motor vehicle accident problem in comparison with the crime problem in this country. 'Automobiles kill or injure 14 times as many people in the course of a year as criminals do. Yet the wholesale toll of human life and limb they take brings no great wave of popular indignation, no loud cry for drastic steps to get on top of the situation.

"But suppose the figures were to be reversed, and that some year criminals should kill or maim 14 times as many people as cars did. Every law enforcement agency in the land would be under fire. Citizens would scream for action. Civic organizations would pass angry resolutions. Congressmen and state legislators and city councilmen would make excited speeches and vote more money for more police. There would literally be the devil to pay until the crime wave was brought under control.

"Such violent reaction in such a situation would be understandable. What is much less understandable is the failure of the slaughter on the highways to arouse anything like a similar reaction. Yet a man who is slugged on the head by a footpad's length of lead pipe is no more badly injured than one whose skull is cracked when he is struck down by a car. And a man killed by a shot from a robber's gun is no deadlier than one killed by a racing automobile.

"Somehow, somewhere along the line in the years since motor vehicles became essential to our common life, we have lost our sense of proportion where they are concerned. We have come more and more to accept the terrible toll of suffering they exact as an unfortunate but inevitable part of the price we must pay for the usefulness and convenience they offer. The idea is fatalistic and completely false. But as long as it governs the thinking of so many, the problem of highway safety will remain an unimportant one.

"The House Thursday shouted down a Democratic attempt to provide an extra one billion dollars for accelerating B52 production. The House then went on to approve unanimously the administration's defense budget with only minor changes. It appeared doubtful, however, that the move will be any more successful in the Senate than it was in the House.

Says Retaliation For Executions Of Two Cypriots

NICOSIA, Cyprus — The pro-Greek underground announced today it had hanged two British soldiers in a life-for-a-life reprisal against the British execution of two Cypriot gunmen.

Shortly afterwards, a Cypriot youth, handing out leaflets announcing the reprisal executions, was shot and killed in Nicosia's main square. Violence also flared elsewhere.

At Ktima, a bomb was tossed at a British commando patrol. It fell short and injured a Greek Cypriot woman and another passerby.

Eight masked men beat up the mukhtar Turkish Cypriot headman in Lemona Thursday night.

A mine exploded on the Famagusta-Nicosia highway, damaging an army truck. The British soldiers in it escaped injury.

Casts Doubt on Claim

Field Marshal Sir John Harding, the British governor of Cyprus, based an official statement indicating he did not believe the underground claim.

His statement said the leaflets contained inaccuracies. It added there never had been "the slightest evidence" the two soldiers had been captured. It said the leaflets were "patently an attempt to make propaganda capital from the fact that the two men are known to be missing."

The British were shocked and angered by the reported hanging of Cpl. Gordon Hill and Ronnie Shilton. They swiftly tightened security measures on this troubled Mediterranean island.

The underground made its claim of revenge killings in special English language leaflets distributed throughout Nicosia. It claimed the soldiers were slain in retaliation for the hanging of Cypriots Michaelis Karalakis and Andreas Demetriou.

The British confirmed that Hill and Shilton were missing from their units. Without their bodies, however, the executions could not be confirmed. Official quarters in London, however, expressed "tentative belief" the soldiers were dead.

House Rejects Democratic Move to Boost Production of B52 Bombers

WASHINGTON — Democrats today served notice that they will make another attempt in the Senate to boost production of B52 intercontinental jet bombers over administration plans.

It appeared doubtful, however, that the move will be any more successful in the Senate than it was in the House.

The House Thursday shouted down a Democratic attempt to provide an extra one billion dollars for accelerating B52 production. The House then went on to approve unanimously the administration's defense budget with only minor changes.

The bill provides $33,000,000,000 in defense funds—$10,000,000,000 more than requested by the Eisenhower administration.

Bullet Pierces Front Door of The Brokerage

A bullet pierced the glass of the front door of the Brokerage store during the night. Chief of Police Ross Lane said the hole was made by a .22 calibre slug, and apparently somebody had fired from an auto passing the store, which is on the west side of the square.

Charles Rauh, store manager, said the slug which entered the store had not been found.

The act apparently occurred after 10 p. m., he said, because Barter's drug store, adjacent to the Brokerage, was open until that hour and no reports were heard by those at the store.

Chief Lane was making an investigation today.

Layoffs Idle Half Million in Auto Industry

DETROIT (UP)—A shutdown of all General Motors automotive assembly operations and layoffs by other auto firms today idled about a half-million workers.

The sprawling GM organization said it would halt assemblies for today only, giving a "vacation" to more than 390,000 hourly-rated workers. A GM spokesman said this week's production was cut to four days "to balance production with current customer demand."

Full production will be resumed Monday, he added.

The GM cutback followed an estimate by the trade publication Automotive News that this week's car production would be the lowest in the nation of 1956. The cutback was expected to lower the estimate of 111,230 units even further.

Poor sales of new cars were blamed for the GM cutback and those by Ford and Chrysler, the other members of the auto industry's "Big Three."

The United Auto Workers Union estimated that more than 123,000 auto workers were laid off "indefinitely." UAW President Walter P. Reuther asked for joint labor-management conferences to solve what he called an "alarming" rate of unemployment in both the auto and farm implement industries.

Chrysler has idled 6,200 workers indefinitely at plants here and in Evansville, Ind., since Reuther's proposal and laid off 6,500 others for two days in Detroit.

The junior-senior prom at HTHS will be May 18 at 8 p. m. at Bonnell gymnasium, and the juniors are busily preparing for the big event. The theme will not be revealed until that night.

General planning committee consists of Robert Jones, Brenda Heatherly, Janice Gidcomb, Judy Wiley, Judy Wells, Jerry Bramlet, Karen Clarke, Judy Franks, Pat Hodson, Joan Seright and Fred Lamkin.

Sponsors are Mrs. Guy J. Hunter, chairman, Mrs. James Arensman, Lawrence Caluffetti, Miss Al Davis, Mrs. Russell Malan, Jesse Nichols and Miss Louise Rice.

The dance is for members of the junior and senior classes only.

Further entertainment is being planned by the Elks club which is sponsoring a "premier" at the entrance of Bonnell building. The steps and platform will be decorated with greenery and flowers to give the effect of a formal garden, and as the students arrive they will be introduced by Emcee Carl Rude, and the girls' gowns will be described by Mrs. Eli Lasersohn. The public is invited to attend this "premier" and see how the kids are dressed for this exciting event.

After the prom which will end at midnight the juniors and seniors are invited to the Elks home where dancing will continue until morning and where breakfast will be served.

The purpose of dance and breakfast is to keep the boys and girls off the road, it was stated by Vern Joyner Jr., committee chairman. Also on the committee are Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ford, Mr. and Mrs. Roderic Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Lew Fulkerson, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Bramlet, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rude, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Lasersohn, Mrs. Betty Franks and Mrs. Catherine Seright.

Besides his mother he leaves two brothers: Roy Hayes, Harrisburg, Henry Hayes, Mt. Vernon, Ind., one sister, Mrs. Bessie Long, Shawneetown, and a half brother, Willard Wilson, Harrisburg.

The body is being returned to Harrisburg by the Gibbons funeral home ambulance.

Ralph Hayes, 50, 816 Fourteenth street, Chicago, died there yesterday. He was the son of Mrs. Florence Bryant, 112 North Sherman street in Harrisburg.

The lion's share of the new money—$15,400,000,000, of which $2,000,000,000 would be for B52s. The Army would get $7,500,000,000 and the Navy $9,900,000,000.

But the Senate Democrats who have been charging that the administration is allowing the United States to lose air supremacy to Russia said they would not give up their fight to add money for B52 production.

Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-NM), chairman of the military appropriations subcommittee, said in an interview that there is "a possibility" that Senate Democrats may succeed in increasing funds for B52 production. But he conceded that a sufficient number of Democrats likely will side with Eisenhower.

Seven Hurt in Ordnance Plant Blast Near Marion

Probe Discharge Of 22 Rockets From Jet Fighter

MT. CLEMENS, Mich. — A board of inquiry today began an investigation into the discharge of 22 rockets from a jet fighter which injured three airmen and riddled a baby's crib.

The plane was on the ground at Selfridge Air Force Base when the rockets were discharged in an unknown manner. They whined over a resort community at the mouth of the Clinton River.

Three of the "Mighty Mouse" rockets still were missing but officials at Selfridge Air Force Base said they assumed they went into the river without exploding.

One of the rockets, which carried 75-millimeter warheads, exploded near a home. Its casing ripped a section from the side of the house and shattered a window, enveloping a baby's crib with glass and metal and setting fire to the floor.

Mrs. Shirley De Pew, 24, said she took her eight-month-old son from the crib only minutes earlier because he persisted in crying.

"There was this terrible explosion," Mrs. De Pew said. "I thought it was the oil stove and ran into the baby's room where I saw the fire and the glass all over the crib."

Two of the airmen were injured when one of the missiles tore into a salvage building on the base and a third was "singed" by the rockets took off. Officers believed a short-circuit or "electric malfunction" caused the accident but said their investigation would determine the exact cause.

Most residents of the community were not alarmed by the blasts, and said they assumed "just another jet broke the sound barrier."

The new money bill—scheduled for debate next week—calls for cash appropriations of $1,983,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

That is $1,000,000,000 more than Congress appropriated in cash last year and $3,800,000 less than the administration requested.

In addition, the administration has requested—and Congress is almost certain to approve—an increase of two billion dollars in funds for Commodity Credit Corp. to finance farm price support operations. That will be handled later in separate legislation.

The big increase in the cash appropriations this year is due largely to the $1,200,000,000 carried in the bill for CCC to make up for past losses on farm price support and surplus disposal operations.

By paying for previous losses, these funds will restore the CCC's price support fund to 12 billion dollars, including its current multi-billion dollar investment in farm surpluses.

The second bill would raise to 14 billion dollars the maximum funds which CCC can "borrow" from the Treasury at any one time to finance farm programs. The administration feels that the 12 billion dollar ceiling is too low to finance price support operations on 1956 crops and the cost of the administration-proposed soil bank.

The committee-approved money bill also includes 783 million dollars for the Agriculture Department's "regular activities." This is an increase of 78 million dollars over last year but $3,800,000 less than President Eisenhower's sharply increased budget requests.

NEW YORK — Former President Harry S. Truman left for his third trip to Europe today with his very first U. S. passport in hand.

He hadn't needed one as a World War I artillery officer or as president of the United States, Mr. Truman explained. This time, he said, he's going "as Mr. Truman from Missouri—to be shown."

The former president and Mrs. Truman boarded the liner United States before 10 a. m. to sail at noon for their seven-week visit.

Despite his unofficial capacity, Mr. Truman said, there won't be too much time for sightseeing. He has a full schedule of invitations from heads of state in six countries, many of them returning White House hospitality of the Trumans.

The principal reason he is making the trip at this time, Mr. Truman said, is to accept an honorary doctorate of laws degree from Oxford University June 20.

"I'm going to have dinner with the prime minister, lunch with Mr. Churchill and tea with the Queen," Mr. Truman said of his other engagements in England.

He said he had no official commitments. President Eisenhower hasn't asked him to do a thing, he said, and he didn't offer.

"I wouldn't be worth a dime to him," he said. "I don't know what's going on."

Mr. Truman said he also had accepted formal invitations of the premier and president of France, the premier and president of Italy, the chancellor of Germany, the Queen and prince consort of the Netherlands, the prime minister of Belgium, and the U. S. ambassadors in London, Paris and Rome.

The Trumans arrived in New York two days ago and have been visiting with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Daniel.

Mrs. Sarah Hill, 67, wife of Flomoy Hill of Carrier Mills, died at 7:45 a. m. today in the Galatia nursing home.

She leaves three children: Granville Hill, Mrs. Peggy Butler and Raymond Hill, all of Carrier Mills. The body is at the Thornton funeral home in Carrier Mills and funeral plans are incomplete.

House Group Asks Nearly Two Billion Cash Funds for Ag Dep't

WASHINGTON (UP)—The House Appropriations Committee recommended today that Congress hand the Agriculture Department almost two billion dollars in cash.

Congress promptly put two and two together and discovered it is being asked to put up almost four billion dollars this year to meet the growing cost of the farm program.

The new money bill—scheduled for debate next week—calls for cash appropriations of $1,983,000,000 for the fiscal year starting July 1.

That is $1,000,000,000 more than Congress appropriated in cash last year and $3,800,000 less than the administration requested.

Explosion is In Loading Room Of Match Corp.

Injured Taken to Marion Hospital; None
Believed Serious

MARION, Ill. (UP)—An explosion rocked an ordnance plant here today injuring seven workers. The blast occurred in a loading room of the Universal Match Corporation's ordnance plant, which makes signal bombs and rocket flares for the armed forces.

A company spokesman said the explosion came as a remote control machine was loading a flash cartridge for a practice bomb.

It blew off the roof of the room, but did not push out the walls, which are made of 12-inch-thick concrete.

The seven workers who were injured were taken to Marion Memorial Hospital for examination and treatment. A plant official said the injuries were not believed to be serious.

After the blast, the plant was closed down to clean up the wreckage. Plant Manager Sam Ehrlich said it was expected that the factory, employing 100 to 125 persons, will resume at least limited production Monday.

At Marion Memorial Hospital, authorities said those hospitalized were Mrs. Nick Davis, Route 3, Marion; John Lacy and Noble Nolen of rural West Frankfort; William Perschbacher, Johnston City; Cleo Escue, Mahanada; Mrs. Leo Woollard, rural Marion; and Mrs. Elmer Cline, Marion.

IPAC Reports Drop in Relief

CHICAGO (UP)—The Illinois Public Aid Commission today reported a slight drop in its rolls in March, the first decline since November.

The IPAC said it administered aid to 244,000 persons, 635 below the number in February. While the decline was small, the commission said it signals "a more substantial drop during the next few months."

A total of $12,793,063 was spent during March, a drop of 1.3 per cent from the same month a year earlier.

The data was contained in a staff report to be presented at the IPAC's regular May meeting later today.

Another report estimated the needs of local governments for general assistance funds, or poor relief, for May at $2,750,000. This is $406,197 below the estimated spending for April.

Downers Grove Woman IFWC Head

CHICAGO (UP)—Mrs. Ervin J. Heckel, Downers Grove, was elected president of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs Thursday. She defeated Mrs. Walter N. Sutherland, Kenilworth.

Mrs. Oscar A. Travis won the office of junior director in another contest at the federation's 61st convention.

Others elected included Mrs. M. E. Bruce, East St. Louis, first vice president; Mrs. Joseph P. Juric, Riverside, treasurer; and Mrs. Walter Collins, West Frankfort, vice president and director of the southern region.

Child Strangles In Baby Buggy

PEKIN, Ill. (UP)—An 18-month-old boy strangled today when he caught his head between the frame and canopy of a baby buggy as he played on the front porch of his grandmother's home.

The boy, Bobby Ewen, apparently caught his head in the buggy as he stood on the porch and was killed when he fell or slipped to the floor. His grandmother, Mrs. Wayne Garmen, found the boy in a sitting position on the porch with the buggy tipped toward him.

The boy's father, James Ewen, was at work in a barber shop in the basement of the Garmen home when the accident occurred. The boy's mother was at work at a bank.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.
Written for NEA Service

"A frog is a sort of thing in a railroad track that makes a train go from one piece of track to another piece of track when you would think the train might jump the track and get all mixed up."

Such was the explanation given by one small lad to his younger brother who was fearful of riding on a train when the tracks appeared to be confused.

"You see," continued the young teacher, "it's frogs and switches and signals that make it possible for us to go where we want to go, instead of going where we don't want to be."

The explanation may not be very scientific. It may not even be accurate. However, it does point to the fact that even a child appreciates the need for devices to assure arrival at our destinations without mishaps.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could know about the frogs and switches and signals on our spiritual tracks which take us into the realm of everyday living? We look ahead into the confusion of the material world and we hesitate to set out on a spiritual right of way.

We fail to ask God to sit at the throne of our own lives. We overlook the "frogs" which are already built. We forget that love and service and prayer will keep us headed in the right direction with safety.

Hope and faith will keep us on the track.

REACHES DEEPLY...

It is truly said the devotion of a mother is our nearest approach to Heaven on Earth.

Anna Jarvis subscribed to that belief when she founded Mother's Day years ago.

We wear a red carnation or rise to honor our mothers who live... a white one in memory of mothers who have gone.

It is important, also, to perpetuate the memory of loved ones in some lasting form.

Let us help you in your selection of a fitting memorial.

A LUCKY DAY: Losing Mine Job Brought Fenton Baker New Business; Now Land Brings Oil

Fenton Baker, a former Peabody Coal Co. employee, known to a great many miners of Saline county as an electrician who worked at Peabody Mine No. 43 before April of 1954, considers the day he was laid off at Mine No. 43 one of his luckiest days. And, Mr.
Baker has had some mighty lucky days!

He was one of 175 men released with the more thorough mechanization of Mine No. 43 and following the shut down of Mine No. 47. Mr.
Baker had been farsighted enough to know that such a thing might happen and for a year or more before he had been studying radio and television. Earnestly seeking out the secrets of the cathode of the vacuum tube and the beta rays, he was ready to set himself up in business as a radio and television repairman.

A graduate of the Chicago Industrial Training Institute he also enrolled in extension courses at Southern Acres, the Southern Illinois University School of Radio and Television.

He set up a repair shop in the sunroom of the big old two-story farmhouse southwest of Galatia about seven miles, which was built 65 years ago
by Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ryan, parents of his wife Elsie. Mr.
Baker is not one of the Saline county Bakers. He was born in Golconda, and when five years of age moved to Metropolis, where he worked as an automobile mechanic until about 12 years ago.

Of course his experience in electrical engineering and automobile generators, helped him get along pretty fast in radio and television.

With the completion of his first set, built from start to finish, he began to advertise his services.

The response was gratifying.
Gratifying also was the fact that others interested in establishing a radio and television repair business came from various parts of the state to inspect his layout and to pattern their own establishments after it. It was flattering to receive visitors from Chicago, Springfield, Bloomington, Mt. Vernon, West Frankfort and Metropolis.
They came from one end of the state to the other.

The school from which he had received his diploma sought to enlist him as instructor. But, the roots of the Bakers go deep into the soil of southern Illinois, and they chose to remain here, which was their wisest decision. For, that soil is about to reward them for their loyalty.

For some time now, Mr. Baker has been repairing an average of 25 radios and televisions each week.
Nine out of ten televisions can be repaired in the home, Mr. Baker says, and it is more satisfactory all of the way around, when this can be done.

Since early this year Mr.
Baker has had a compelling distraction from his electronic vocation. The Baker farm consists of 100 acres, and these were leased late in 1955 for the purpose of drilling for oil.
In January Mr. and Mrs. Baker were in something of a dither over the oil speculation, and not being much of a gambler, he offered to sell the oil rights under half of his acreage.
There was no rush of takers, but some pretty good bids were received. Caution was rewarded when a few weeks later the first well on his property was drilled and proved on Feb.
26th to be a good producer.

Since then three other wells have been drilled and the four are now pumping 1800 barrels of oil per day. At one time he could look out from the Baker farmyard and count within sight 11 oil drilling operations.

His yield from the wells is one-eighth of production, and the oil sells for $3 per barrel at the well.
How does he feel about receiving almost a thousand dollars a day? That is more than a $64,000 question, because he hasn't received any of it yet! He says that no mention has been made about when he will get his first check, but he is not perturbed over that matter, and expects it will be "pay day"
some day before too long.

What will he do? No special plans. He will keep on with his radio and television. With his income from oil, he could, if he wished turn his hand to investment. Should he do that there may be another lucky day in the life calendar of Fenton Baker.

No Shortage of Ideas for New Look in Marshall Plan

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Ideas for new approaches to the U. S. foreign aid program are popping all over the place. Without agreeing in any detail, they indicate a general feeling that the present program isn't working and could be done better.

The starting point is President Eisenhower's 4.8 billion dollar request for next year, now before Congress. Also, the President wants new authority to make commitments for up to 10 years on specific projects, like Egypt's Aswan Dam.

Senate Leader Lyndon Johnson (D-Tex) says it's up to the Eisenhower administration to prove the need for this outlay. Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga), chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee—indicating that "there will be no blank checks"—now proposes a private research study to determine future policy.

This is somewhat in line with an earlier proposal from Gov. Christian A. Herter (R-Mass). He advocates a Presidential, bi-partisan commission to make a declaration on what American foreign policy stands for.

THE SKY IS THE LIMIT on proposals from responsible citizens who think a bigger and better foreign aid program is the best weapon for combating Russian economic penetration of the free world.

Gov. George N. Craig (R-Ind) thinks the United States should commit itself to a 75-year foreign aid program.

John J. Hopkins, head of General Dynamics Corp., raises this to 100 years. He would enlarge the atom-for-peace aid, along with arms aid and technical assistance.

Committee for Economic Development, the progressive big businessmen's organization now headed by J. D. Zellerbach of San Francisco, is boosting its own plan for a billion-dollar-a-year technical assistance program for the underdeveloped countries of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

Walter Reuther, head of United Auto Workers, tops everybody by his plan for a foreign aid outlay of eight billion dollars a year for 25 years. He would have Russia and other countries make comparable grants, and have the whole program administered by the United Nations.

REP. BROOK HAYS (D-Ark) and Rep. Chester Merrow (R-NH), who were U. S. delegates to the U. N. last year, have also recommended that more American aid be administered by the U. N.

Eric A. Johnston, President Eisenhower's special envoy to the Middle East for development of the Jordan River plan, thinks all economic aid should be in the form of international loans—not grants.

Benjamin A. Javits, brother of New York's attorney general, has proposed to Congress an end to government aid and substitution of a gigantic, publicly and privately financed, 25-billion-dollar Economic Development Corp. to do the job.

Two Citizens' Committees for an "Expanded" and an "Effective" Foreign Aid Program are active in New York and Washington, respectively.

MUCH OF THIS agitation for a new Marshall plan is inspired by Russia's entry into the foreign aid field.

Ivan G. Kavanov, Soviet minister of foreign trade, recently told the U. N. Economic Commission for Europe, meeting in Geneva, that when dollar aid ran out, other countries should look to the Soviet Union for whatever they lack.

Many people think the Soviet is bluffing in these grandiose offers. There is considerable sentiment to let Russia build the Aswan Dam, or steel mills in India. Back of this is a belief that the Russians would fail on the job.

This is much the same argument that was advanced for letting China go Communist. The feeling of the time was that Russia would bog down in the Chinese morass. There was a similar feeling that Russia couldn't build the A- and H-bombs and couldn't build jet aircraft. It hasn't worked out that way.

Much Interest Shown in Antique Display at Methodist Centennial

The Antique Display of the Century of Methodism proved to be a popular place for picture taking and reminiscing. Mrs. Morris Skaggs, Mrs. Bessie Border and Mrs. Naomi Loos were in charge of the display.

The setting was grandma's parlor with the parlor furniture being a horsehair sofa and matching chairs, marble top tables and a brass table with an onyx top. Each table held beautiful metal base lamps of the earlier days and many of Grandma's souvenirs which are more valuable now than in her day. The Henry Utter family Bible stood on a Bible stand in the room. The Bible was displayed by Mrs. Harley Shepherd. The furniture and furnishings were shown by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Border.

Much interest was displayed in the early mementoes of various Methodist families, the greatest interest being pictures of well known persons in the church and their families through the hundred years of Methodism in Harrisburg.

Glass Collections
The Antique Display room was made colorful by a collection of pink lustre by Mrs. V. V. Brown, colored glass by Mrs. Harry Border and a blue milk glass collection by Mrs. D. A. Lehman.

The first mirror ever brought to Harrisburg was shown by Mrs. Charles McKenzie. It was brought here by John W. Tate, grandfather of the late Charles McKenzie. A pre-Civil War fluting iron was on display by the Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Cummins, reminiscent of the days when grandma and great grandma spent a great deal of time fluting their finery for the church socials and services.

John Wesley's version of the New Testament and early hymnals were shown by Miss Mary E. White.

A collection of interest was shown by Mrs. Myrtle E. Combe and Mrs. Grace Ozment in honor of their father, John W. Coker, who was superintendent of the Sunday school for 25 years. They displayed many hymnals owned by Mr. Coker, a teacher's Bible, their family Bible and family album.

Donations to Display
The song book, "Southern Harmony," dated 1835, was shown by two persons, Mrs. Minnie Morse and Rev. Cummins, and was an unusual coincidence because of the rarity. The book contained songs, Odes and anthems with words and music.

Other donations to the display were early pictures of the cantata "Lallah," supervised by Mrs. Mollie Williford for Junior League members, by Mrs. Pearl Sherman; pictures and Bible of J. H. Cannon, father of Mrs. Charles McKenzie and Mrs. T. R. McCormick; church mementoes by O. E. Barter, Mrs. John Schwartz, Mrs. Imogene Hunt; pictures by Mrs. John Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Melvin; family Bible and tintypes by Mrs. Mitch Golish; a 167-year-old Bible and tintypes by Mr. and Mrs. Gene Irvin; mustache cups by Mrs. Naomi Loos; prayer book by Mrs. Edna Cox;

A Pink Lustre Methodist church souvenir slipper by Mrs. Eugene Morris; a third grade graduation reward of former years by Mrs. Coy Brown; two church-going outfits of the late Mrs. John Thad Gaskins by Mrs. Louis Mitsdardfer and Mrs. Karl Andersen; a picture by Mrs. B. E. Montgomery of one of the church quartets, Mrs. Etta Taylor, Leah Taylor, Elsie Joyner and Pearl Williford; a small collection of early iron banks by Johnny Skaggs; an interesting collection of pewter and brass over 100 years old by Mrs. R. D. Brown Sr.;

Old shoes by Mrs. Claude L. Rew; an 1887 issue of the Harrisburg Chronicle by Mrs. Mary Jane Rice whose grandfather was editor at the time; a spectacle collection by Dr. D. A. Lehman, showing the early styles in eyeglasses; an early hymnal with words by Mrs. Fannie Pelhank; a plate collection by the Susannah Wesley Sunday school class, showing the old church, Wesley Center and the new church plate which is being sold by the class.

Mrs. Morris Skaggs wishes to thank all those displaying articles of the past which made the Antique Display an interesting part of the Century of Methodism.

Britain Closes Two Nationalized Mines as Disciplinary Measure

CARDIFF, Wales (AP)—Britain's nationalized coal board stunned a tiny Welsh mining village today by closing two "trouble" pits and firing 1,060 miners.

The action was taken as a disciplinary measure against the miners at two collieries at Gwaun-Cae-Gurwen, a Welsh speaking village in the Swansea valley.

Fourteen-day dismissal notices were given to the miners today. The collieries will be dismantled and closed for good.

The pits have a 10-year history of labor disputes with the coal board. The latest strike ended only Thursday. The men had walked out April 24 because the board dismissed two miners for "going slow."

Eisenhower Accepts Invitation to Meeting In Panama June 25-26

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today formally accepted an invitation to attend a meeting of the 21 American States at Panama on June 25-26.

The President's formal decision to attend the meeting was sent to Ricardo M. Arias Espinosa, president of Panama.

The President expects to fly to Panama City, leaving Washington June 24.

Minister Carries On Sitdown Strike In State Office

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Baptist Minister Sam Morris went into the third day of a sitdown strike in a state office today. He vowed he will stick it out until "the Lord calls me home to glory" if necessary.

The Rev. Morris, up from San Antonio, Tex., whiled away the time in the insurance office by thumbing through the Bible and a book describing "the ravages of rum."

Morris wants Insurance Commissioner P. P. Bennett to reinstate him as head of the Preferred Risk Mutual Insurance Co.

The company sells insurance to teetotalers only. Morris got into a fight with the board of directors Monday, charging it had broken faith with the policy-holders by hiring "drinkers."

The board retaliated by ousting him.

Morris promptly took up his station in the most comfortable chair in Commissioner Bennett's office. The fact that Bennett isn't in town didn't worry him.

RIGHT HERE—in this blazing '56 Buick—you control the most powerful engine Buick ever built.

It's so packed with high-compression zip and go that when you're cruising at a legal 50 miles an hour your engine is practically loafing.

Even going uphill, this big new 322-cubic-inch V8 feels no more stress and strain than a sprinter taking a stroll.

Any engineer can tell you what that means. You save on wear and tear because your engine is taking it so easy so much of the time. You save on repair for the same reason. You even save on gas bills.

So—in all literal truth—driving a 1956 Buick feels just as good as money in the bank.

But what makes this an even greater dollar-and-cents value is how Buick's vast engine power is translated into smooth and spectacular action.

For now Variable Pitch Dynaflo* has the highest torque ratio in the industry. It uncorks a brilliant new getaway response at your slightest say-so, and with a new step-up in gas mileage, to boot.

And brother, when you have to zoom for the sake of safety, you really zoom. Dynaflo's full-power, switch-pitch take-off even opens the eyes of airplane pilots.

It's a gorgeous bundle of ginger and snap, this new '56 Buick—and an undiluted joy.

It's a solid, spacious and simply sensational Buick through and through.

So come explore its excitements—its great new ride—new center-grooved brakes—newly balanced X-braced frame—sweet new steering—all the many new blessings that make it the best Buick yet.

Best of all, come learn how little it costs to drive a new Buick for keeps.

Your dividends begin the day of deposit—so why wait a week longer?

Indians Win Second Game In Row from Yankees; Open 13-Day Stand at Home

By United Press
Manager Al Lopez professed surprise today that his Cleveland Indians were being credited with preventing the New York Yankees from making a runaway of the American league pennant race. "I never had the feeling the Yankees were going to make a runaway of the race and I certainly don't have it now," Lopez said after Thursday's 7-2 victory that gave the Indians a 2-1 edge in the season's first series between the two top contenders. "Frankly, I can't imagine how all that talk started."

Lopez was more impressed with the fact that the Indians are opening a 13-day home stand against the Kansas City Athletics tonight and pointed out that "we really haven't been home since March 1" due to a quirk in the AL schedule. The Indians have played only four home games so far this season.

Home Looks Good

"Home's sure going to look good to us all," Lopez said. "We had a tough time starting out because we played so many road games early in the season but we've come through all right and we figure to get better."

The experts began to talk of a runaway race when the Yankees beat the Indians in the series opener of 14-5 and a 7-1 mark against the Tribe, Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox. The talk quieted down a bit when the Indians beat the Yankees, 6-5, Wednesday and it died out completely as the Tribe made it two in a row Thursday.

Instead, the talk was mostly about Bob Lemon, the 35-year-old veteran who pitched his first complete game against the Yankees since Sept. 20, 1954 in defeating them Thursday. Lemon had an 18-10 record last season but pitched only five complete games. He's pitched four so far this season. "Bob pitched a really fine game—he didn't make a bad pitch,"

Five Pitchers In Deal by Cards, Phillies

ST. LOUIS MO — The St. Louis Cardinals announced today a trade with the Philadelphia Phillies involving five pitchers.

The Cardinals gave Harvey Haddix, Stu Miller and Ben Flowers in exchange for the contracts of Herman Wehmeier and Murry Dickson.

The Phillies were anxious to get Haddix to help out Curt Simmons, since the team suffered from a shortage of left-handers. Haddix had a 1-0 record this year. Last year he won 12 and lost 16.

Flowers, Miller, Dickson and Wehmeier are all right-handers. Dickson's record this year is 0-3 while Wehmeier's is 0-2.

Phillies Manager Mayo Smith said Haddix was the key man in the deal.

"We needed left-handed pitching and Haddix is a good one," Smith said. "As for Miller and Flowers, I don't know enough about them."

Smith said the two right-handers had "good past records, but whether they can be good enough to be starting pitchers for us, I don't know."

The fact that the Phillies traded for a left-hander "doesn't mean we have given up on Curt Simmons," Smith said.

Frank Lane said he gave up quantity to get "a little more quality" in the trade.

"Wehmeier and Dickson are great stabilizers," Lane said. "We got a starter in Wehmeier, who's 29 years old, and a guy who can start and relieve in Dickson, even though he's 39."

"Wehmeier has reached the age of maturity," he said, "and now he's throwing change-ups and got good curves instead of trying to fire the ball past us. Dickson is a pretty good little guy. He's a great competitor who would knock your cap out to beat you."

A Phillies spokesman said that Dickson and Wehmeier were leaving for Chicago immediately to join the Cards, and it was hoped that Haddix, Flowers and Miller would arrive in Pittsburgh late today in time for the Phillies' game with the Pirates.

Sneed Takes Lead In Opening Round On Home Course

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. — Sammy Sneed was out in front in his "private" golf tournament today and, if any rivals are hoping the old Slammer will beat himself, they can stop dreaming now.

Playing his home course in a safe and - sane manner on every hole, Sneed clipped five strokes off par with a 65 in Thursday's opening round to take a one-stroke lead in the Greenbrier Open Golf Tournament—which he has won three times before.

Mike Fetchick of New York settled for second place at 66 when he missed a 12-foot putt on the 18th green that would have given him a tie.

Jack Isaacs of Hampton, Va., was right behind at 67 and then came six players at 69 and six more at par 70. After that the invitation blue-ribbon field trailed down to Craig Wood of Mammoth, N. Y., in last place at 77.

Rollins Is Showered with Gifts; Jersey Placed in School Trophy Case

Christmas came early for Oliver Rollins at Carrier Mills.

Thursday afternoon the Carrier Mills Community high school students body presented the former high school cage star who will join the Harlem Globetrotters, with gifts of clothing.

The presentation, made by Richard Hill, president of the Student Council, included tie, socks, dress shirt, sport shirt, charcoal slacks and a fancy white linen sports jacket. Included with the clothing was a cuff link set, gift from Ed Towle, Harrisburg businessman.

Following the school presentation, Rollins was escorted to the offices of the Stonefort Coal Corp., where he was given a beautiful set of matched luggage, a gift from all employees of the mine.

And that's not all. Today he received a cash purse from friends and fans around the Carrier Mills business district.

And the school was giving him something else today. Final exams!

During the ceremony Thursday afternoon Number 45, the number worn by Rollins during his four-year high school career, was retired.

The jersey worn this past season will occupy a place of honor in the school trophy case. With the jersey will be a picture, made by a Daily Register photographer, showing Rollins holding his Globetrotter contract.

The Trotters leave from New York May 16 for a tour of twenty-one foreign countries. Rollins took his exams today so that he may graduate with his class.

He leaves Carrier Mills this weekend for Chicago to join other players and Globetrotter executives for the trip to New York. Then overseas.

Palestine Peace Up To Israel, Arabs, Hamarskjold Says

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — Secretary-General Dag Hamarskjold said today that Palestine peace rests now with Israel and her Arab neighbors. He expressed confidence that they will "continue in cooperation" with each other.

Hamarskjold also told a news conference that his next step in securing a lasting Holy Land peace will be to continue his "quiet diplomacy" in talks with the major powers. But he said he had not yet discussed with any of them whether they would restrain their actions in the Middle East.

Soviet Embassy Clerk Vanishes From His Home

WASHINGTON — The Washington Daily News said today that Vladimir Mikheev, the Soviet embassy clerk who tried to get secret information from government workers, has vanished from his home.

The State Department has been checking Mikheev's actions to determine whether he should be sent back to Russia. Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), whose House committee on Un-American Activities has been investigating the Mikheev case, late Thursday demanded that the department expel the Russian.

Walter said it had not been determined yet whether Mikheev actually committed espionage. But he said he definitely violated his diplomatic immunity by seeking strategic information from two Americans—Sidney Hatkin, a suspended Air Force employe, and Richard S. Cutter, an armed forces medical librarian. Both men spurned Mikheev's attempts and reported him to authorities.

The News said Mikheev packed his wife, his small son, several suitcases, and bundles of clothing and other belongings into a dark blue sedan in front of his home Thursday night and drove off. A Russian air force attaché, in plain clothes, followed in another car.

FBI Conducts Civil Rights School For Police in South

WASHINGTON (AP) — J. Edgar Hoover, celebrating his 32nd anniversary as head of the FBI Thursday, said his agents are conducting "civil rights schools" for Southern police officers.

The 61-year-old FBI chief also took a verbal swing at "hotheads on either side" who advocate drastic measures in the school integration issue.

"If everyone proceeds with moderation, and without resort to violence, these civil rights problems can be met and solved," he said. "The feelings are still there (in the South), but there is a growing awareness that the problem must be solved, and in a responsible manner."

Hoover told a news conference the civil rights schools conducted at the state level are designed to explain to the policemen the jurisdiction of the federal government and how federal laws operate in the field. He reported a "tremendous" response from Southern law officers.

Two Executed by Firing Squad Ask Deaths Serve as Warning to All

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN, Utah — A double-strength firing squad executed two Midwestern slayers at dawn today.

The youths asked that "our tragic lives and ending serve as a warning to all—young and old." The barking rifles of 10 volunteer marksmen ended a 6-1-2 year battle by Verne Alfred Braasch, 27, Reinbeck, Iowa, and Melvin Leroy Sullivan, 25, Kansas City, Kan., to escape death for the October, 1949, slaying of a youthful Utah service station attendant.

Braasch and Sullivan died seated in spotlighted chairs in a shed in the outer yard of Utah's Point of the Mountain Prison.

Deputy Sheriff Charles Wells gave the firing order for the state's first double firing squad execution at 5:14 a. m. MST.

As Wells' hat dropped in signal, the riflemen fired from stading and kneeling positions behind the window of a prison building 25 feet from the slayers. Eight of the rifles, containing 30 caliber bullets, carried the death message. Two, none knew which, were loaded with blanks.

Sullivan was pronounced dead at 5:15 a. m.; Braasch at 5:16 a. m. When the two men came into the yard, they already had been hooded with black cloths that draped over their heads and chest.

Round white targets had been fixed over the black hoods to mark their hearts. The eight bullets punched closely grouped patterns on the targets.

About 100 witnesses were on hand for the execution. Joseph A. Manzione, Beaver, Utah, the father of Howard Manzione, the slayers' victim, was one of them.

The condemned men issued a statement Thursday night through Father Tom Meersman, prison chaplain, in which they said they did not protest their punishment.

As a "partial excuse," they said that as children of broken homes "we grew up in neglect and did not have a chance in life."

Religious training, Braasch and Sullivan insisted, "would have pointed us in the right direction."
